9. Taxation

This section briefly summarises the taxation regime as it applies to the Portfolios. It is intended as a general guide only. Everyone has different taxation positions and should seek their own tax advice prior to investing.

Portfolio Investment Entities

The Portfolios are Portfolio Investment Entities (PIEs). Gains derived by PIEs disposing of shares in New Zealand and certain listed Australian companies should not be subject to tax. Investments in certain offshore equities are taxed under the Fair Dividend Rate method, with a deemed return of 5% of the market value. Disposal gains and dividends received from offshore equities (excluding certain listed Australian companies) should not be subject to tax. Under the PIE tax regime, a Portfolio will allocate its taxable income to you and, where applicable, pay tax on your allocated income if you have a Prescribed Investor Rate (PIR) of greater than zero. A Portfolio will undertake any necessary adjustments to your interests in the Portfolio to reflect that the Portfolio pays tax at varying rates on your allocated income. We have delegated these functions to MMC.

NZ-resident individuals

The PIRs for individuals in the Portfolios who are New Zealand tax resident are 10.5%, 17.5% and 28%. Individuals will be eligible for a 10.5% PIR if their taxable income in either of the two immediately prior tax years¹ did not exceed both:

- $14,000 (excluding PIE income); and
- $48,000 (including PIE income less losses).

Individuals who do not qualify for the 10.5% rate are eligible for the 17.5% PIR if their taxable income in either of the two immediately prior tax years did not exceed both:

- $48,000 (excluding PIE income); and
- $70,000 (including PIE income less losses).

If an individual does not qualify for either the 10.5% PIR or the 17.5% PIR (or does not provide us with a valid IRD number or PIR) their PIR will be 28%. The maximum tax rate for an individual investor in a Portfolio is 28%.

If you have provided us with the correct PIR, you will not be required to include the allocated taxable income in your tax return. If you have provided a PIR that is lower than your correct PIR, you have to include the allocated taxable income in your tax return and you may be subject to interest and penalties on the shortfall. If you have provided a PIR that is higher than your correct PIR, any tax over-withheld will be used to reduce any income tax liability you may have for the tax year and any remaining amount will be refunded to you.

Where joint investors have different PIRs, the highest PIR will be used. If one joint investor does not provide us with their PIR and IRD number, the default 28% rate will apply.

NZ-resident non-individuals

Non-individual investors (such as a company, Unit Trust or charity) who provide us with a valid IRD number will have a PIR of 0%. If they do not provide a valid IRD number the default PIR of 28% will apply. Non-individual investors must account for tax on their allocated income from a Portfolio in their own tax return.

Non-individual investors who are trusts will have a PIR of 0% unless their trustees elect to apply a 10.5%, 17.5% or 28% PIR or they do not provide a valid IRD number. If a 0% PIR applies to a trust, then that trust must account for its allocated income from a Portfolio within its own tax return (at the appropriate tax rate). If a trust elects a 10.5% or 17.5% PIR the trust includes the allocated income from a Portfolio within its own tax return (at the appropriate tax rate) and claims a credit for the tax already paid by the Portfolio.

If a trust elects a 28% PIR to be applied against its allocated income from the relevant Portfolio, we will pay tax at the 28% rate and that will be a final tax (a 10.5% PIR is available only to testamentary trusts).

New Residents of New Zealand In determining your PIR, you must treat gross income earned from foreign sources (in the income year you became a New Zealand resident and in the preceding two income years) as if it were taxable income.

However, you may choose that this rule not apply if you expect that your taxable income in the relevant year will be significantly lower than your total income in the income year prior to becoming a New Zealand resident. In that case, your returns from a Portfolio will be taxable to you, with a credit being available for any PIE tax paid.

Foreign residents

If you are not a New Zealand resident, your allocated income from a Portfolio will be taxed at 28%.

We will account to the IRD directly for tax on your allocated income from the relevant Portfolio.

General

You must advise us of your PIR and IRD number when applying to invest in a Portfolio and if your PIR changes at any time.

The Commissioner of Inland Revenue can require us to disregard a PIR notified by you if the Commissioner considers the rate to be incorrect. The rate that the Commissioner considers appropriate would then apply in respect to you.

Taxable income is attributed annually to 31 March, or at any time you withdraw some or all of your investment from a Portfolio.

If there is a tax loss or there are excess tax credits allocated to you for a period, these will generally be available to you, in the form of a tax credit, if you have a PIR other than 0%.

The relevant Portfolio will either re-invest this tax credit by purchasing units in the Portfolio on your behalf in respect of annual attributions as at 31 March or include it in the net proceeds payable to you or applied on your behalf as a result of a full withdrawal.

For non-individual Investors with a 0% PIR, the tax loss or excess credits may be available for offset in that investor's tax return against other income, with any excess available to carry forward.

You should not have to pay tax on withdrawals and distributions (if any) paid to you from a Portfolio.

There may be changes to the taxation legislation and tax rates in the future which may impact you differently. You should always seek independent professional taxation advice for your individual circumstances.

Neither us, the Supervisor, nor any other person guarantees or provides undertakings in relation to the return of capital invested in any of the Portfolios. This includes the payment of any return on capital, or provision of any distribution or payment of any money in relation to any of the Portfolios, or the performance of the Portfolios.
