Philosophy for Responsible Investing

QuayStreet defines responsible investing as an incorporation of environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors within its investment decision-making framework and believes responsible investing helps improve risk management and generation of long-term returns.

QuayStreet considers that integrating ESG principles into its investment process allows it to more completely act in the best interests of the Fund's investors.

The primary objective of incorporating ESG considerations within QuayStreet's investment framework is to assess and consider how much influence ESG factors may have on financial performance and overall portfolio risk. This is applied within an investment decision-making process that seeks to achieve strong financial outcomes for investors.

Example of ESG Factors and Considerations

Below is a list of ESG factors and considerations QuayStreet will take into account when assessing the suitability of an entity from an investment perspective. This is not an exhaustive list and may not apply to every entity being assessed.

ESG Factor	Primary Focus	Example of Considerations
Environmental	Impact on Climate Change	Carbon Emissions	Financing Emissions Exposure
		Product Impact on Emissions	Vulnerability to Climate Change

Approach to Responsible Investing

The Funds investments are managed by QuayStreet in accordance with their respective objectives and constraints as outlined in the QuayStreet Funds Statement of Investment Policy and Objectives (SIPO). The application of responsible investing within the Funds by QuayStreet will be undertaken in a manner that ensures each Fund continues to be managed in accordance with the SIPO.

Application and use of ESG factors and considerations in respect of responsible investing will be undertaken in a manner that provides a deeper understanding of risks and opportunities an entity may face. Both ESG risks and opportunities can have an impact on investment performance and can materialise over a short or long-term timeframe. As an active manager, QuayStreet considers ESG analysis and monitoring as part of its normal day-to-day investment management duties.

Exclusions

Consistent with its investment philosophy, QuayStreet may exclude investment in entities whose business operations, products or services have a detrimental impact on society and/or the environment.

When determining its exclusion criteria, QuayStreet will consider:

- The ultimate purpose of the exclusion and how this serves investors, society and other stakeholders.
- New Zealand laws and regulatory prohibitions concerning investment in certain entities or assets.
- The level of impact that exclusions may have on investment risk and return objectives and overall Fund portfolio construction.

Current set of Exclusions

QuayStreet has determined it will exclude direct investment in entities that undertake business operations across the following activities:

Exclusion	Description of types of commercial activities that are captured
Tobacco	Tobacco farming, manufacture of cigarettes and cigars.
Weapons	Manufacture of cluster bombs, landmines, bio-weapons and nuclear weapons.

Using publicly available information, QuayStreet seeks to identify entities that directly or indirectly generate any level of revenue from the activities listed above and precludes investment in those entities by setting trade restrictions in its pre-trade compliance systems.

In the event that QuayStreet becomes aware that an entity whose securities are held in a Fund's portfolio begins to generate revenue from any of the activities listed above (e.g. due to an acquisition or change in business strategy/operations), QuayStreet will seek to divest its interest in that entity as soon as practically possible. Such divestments will be executed in a manner to avoid incurring excessive costs or causing significant market impact or disruption.

Externally Managed Investments

QuayStreet may direct investments to other external managers or collective investment vehicles (CIVs) such as Exchange Traded Funds.

When investing with an external manager or a CIV, QuayStreet will assess factors such as the issuer's credentials, investment process and framework, liquidity, fund size, management team, lock in periods, costs and any additional operational or compliance requirements.

QuayStreet will also assess and ensure that the externally managed investments do not have underlying investments in entities that are involved in any activities that are specified in the current set of exclusions criteria in this Policy. If an externally managed investment does hold securities in an entity which is captured with this Policy's exclusions criteria (i.e. due to a recent acquisition), QuayStreet will seek to divest its interest in that entity as soon as practically possible. Such divestment will be executed in a manner to avoid incurring excessive costs or causing significant market impact or disruption.

Active Ownership

QuayStreet recognises it has an opportunity to engage with entities in how they conduct their business, improve transparency, promote good corporate governance and advocate for sustainability.

QuayStreet achieves this through exercising voting rights on behalf of investors through proxy voting, or directly engaging with entities it has invested in or is considering investing in.

In regard to voting and corporate actions, QuayStreet will assess the relevant proposals and submit votes in a manner that supports best practice standards and outcomes for shareholders.

Some of the key elements of the governance assessment framework QuayStreet focuses on in respect of entities it considers investing in is described below:

- Board members act in the best interest of shareholders and other stakeholders.
- The board is comprised of members who have the necessary skills and experience to exercise their duties in the best interest of shareholders and other stakeholders.
- The entity ensures its behaviour and business practices are lawful and ethical.
- All shareholders have a right to participate in the governance of the entity on a fair and equal treatment basis.
- The board and any of its committees are structured to act independently from management of the entity.
- There are appropriate controls and procedures in place ensuring the board has effective and frequent oversight of entity operations.

Engagement

Regular corporate engagement offers the opportunity for QuayStreet to develop a greater understanding of business risks and opportunities that entities face, as well as ESG-related matters. It also provides a line of communication which permits QuayStreet to share feedback on entity strategy, practices or disclosures, in particular in circumstances where QuayStreet believes that these elements could be enhanced. This type of engagement is usually conducted through direct discussions with the entity executives or its board of directors.

If a severe ESG-related issue arises in respect of an entity in which a Fund is invested in, QuayStreet will attempt to engage directly with the entity and seek for the purposes of trying to address and resolve that particular issue. The conversations that arise as a result of corporate engagement are kept confidential in order to encourage trust and openness with the entity in question. If a resolution or an adequate response is not achieved or obtained in a timely manner, QuayStreet may seek to divest the entire exposure to the entity that is in a Fund in a prudent and cost minimising manner.

Organisational and External Participation

QuayStreet may engage and collaborate with other credible organisations involved in promoting or influencing responsible and sustainable investment.

Policy Review & Record Keeping

This Policy is reviewed at least annually or more frequently, if required. Execution and compliance with this policy rests with QuayStreet.
